

ZIMMS ORGANICS

OLIVE OIL FOR YOUR HEALTH & WELLNESS

HERE'S TO GOOD HEALTH

I founded Zimms Organics after discovering that high quality organic extra virgin olive oil helped me heal from a debilitating Crohn's disease diagnosis. I was hospitalized more times than I can count, and almost died the first time from internal bleeding. Doctors said I would be on medication the rest of my life... but I wouldn't accept that. The real work began.

Now Zimms Organics is selling online, flying off the shelves in all 12+ Erewhon stores in LA, featured in select Ritz-Carlton properties and has helped thousands of people with their gut health and other medical issues (just check out our 1500+ 5 star reviews online). I've also been off pharmaceutical medication for over 8 years and haven't had a flare up or been back to the hospital since then.

70% of olive oil in the market is spoiled, blended or contains filler seed oils, so it's always been important for me to source the best quality I could find here in California. All of Zimms Organics products are certified organic, single origin, single varietal, cold pressed and high in polyphenols.

I would recommend taking a 1 TBSP (spoonful or Sip Glass) shot of your bottle of HEAL+ (blue) every morning for a week, 15-20 minutes before your first meal and see what you notice. HEAL+ is super high in polyphenols (595 mg / kg) so the health benefits are much more pronounced than a store bought bottle of EVOO.

Try our HEAL (green) EVOO as a delicious finishing oil, in salad dressings, bread dips and whatever else sounds good! HEAL contains 400 mg / kg polyphenols. The HEAL+ is great for food too, it's just extra spicy and grassy because of the super high polyphenol content, which are like super antioxidants for your body.

COOK (terracotta) is for cooking, and contrary to popular belief, it handles wonderfully in heat- up to around 420 °F. COOK has 345 mg/kg polyphenols and those high polyphenol levels help protect the EVOO from oxidizing (smoking) at high temperatures.

I would love to see how you use your Zimms EVOO, so please tag us on Instagram or other social platforms at @zimmsorganics. Enjoy in good health.

With love,

David Zimmerman
